today's decision.

The following extracts from his opinion ndicate his reply to the question: "We think there is nothing in the act which clearly prohibits the roads from adopting the rule in question. The decision turns upon a statute which does not in terms prohibit. * * * The whole question of oint through rates under the provisions of the act is one of agreement between the companies, and they may or may not enter into it as they think their interests demand, and it is equally plain that an initial carrier may agree upon joint through rates with one or several connecting carriers, who between each other might be regarded as competing roads. It is also undoubted that the common carrier need not contract to carry beyond its own line, but may there 25c. Batiste, 121/2c...

WITHOUT JURISDICTION.

College Dismissed.

Case of the Columbian Correspondence

The case of the Columbian Correspondence College of Washington against Postmaster General Cortelyou was today dismissed by the Supreme Court of the United States on the ground that the court is without jurisdiction in the case. The proceeding was instituted by the college to compel the transmission as second-class matter of a quarterly publication prepared by the college. The privilege was denied because of the business character of the institution. ness character of the institution.

The New Jersey-Delaware Case. Attorney General McCarter of New Jersey and Counsellor Bates of Delaware, representing the two states, respectively, in the long-pending boundary suit between them, presented a stipulation for a suspension of proceedings in the court pending legislation, which it is hoped will result in the settlement of the case. The attorneys stated that the states are en-deavoring to agree upon a joint code for the control of the fishing interests of the disputed territory, and Mr. McCarter said that if they succeeded it would end the controversy. The court took the application under advisement. The case has been in the courts since 1877, and the dispute in progress since 1750.

Argument Set for April 2. The court today set the argument in the cases of J. G., Milton, Leonard and Jesse Rawlings vs. the state of Georgia for the 2d of April next, and granted leave to them to plead as paupers. Three of the men are under sentence of death and the fourth to life imprisonment on the charge of murder committed in Lowndes county, Ga., in 1905. They are charged with killing a boy and girl in an effort to assassinate an entire family. The case was brought to the federal supreme court on the ground that the jury by which they were tried was irregularly drawn. They Thousands Use it for Shaving.

Ivory Soap is a bath, toilet and fine laundry soap. And yet, thousands of men who are more than ordinarily particular about their appearance, use it for shaving. They like it because it works up into a profuse, creamy lather; because it softens the beard, and most important of all, because it leaves the skin cool and sweet and soft.

Note. — Pieces of Ivory Soap which are too small for any other purposes are excellent to shave with. Put them in a cup (not a shaving mug), add a little hot water-and shave.

DRIVER'S PERIL.

ing Train.

Charles Matthews, colored, employed as driver of a team for V. Baldwin Johnson, coal dealer, narrowly escaped being killed by a train on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad at 4th and I streets northeast this afternoon. It was only by reason of his having complete control of the two horses he was driving, and being an expert driver, that the team was not struck by the train. Matthews was driving south with a load of coal, and his horses were upon the tracks almost directly in front of an incoming train before he was aware of its approach.

Persons who were on the sidewalk and in teams near the crossing at the time turned their heads in order that they might not witness what threatened to be a terrible accident.

The driver proved equal to The driver proved equal to the emergency, however, and by a quick turn managed to get the horses off the track, remaining upon the seat and saving the animals at the risk of his own life, when he could have jumped and been certain of saving himself. Just as the near horse was pulled off the track the train came along, the engine striking against and breaking part of the wagon. Matthews held his team in the turned position until held his team in the turned position until the train had passed, and did not seem to fully realize what a narrow escape he had fully realize what a narro had until it was all over.

RULING ON MARRIAGE.

Decision at London in Divorce Case.

LONDON, February 26 .- The divorce court today held that a marriage "by habit and repute" contracted at St. Paul, Minn., without either church or civil ceremony, must be considered legal in England. A question arose regarding the legitimacy of the son of Alfred and Ida Newman, who lived as man and wife at St. Paul from 1880 to 1890, when Newman, who is a bar-onet's son, brought his wife to England. His family insisted on the necessity for a church marriage, which was performed in 1894, the couple being, respectively, described as a bachelor and spinster. This false description led to the question of the legitimacy of the son and his right to succeed to his parents' property.

WANTED REWARD.

Was on Crossing in Way of Approach- So He Induced Countryman to Call Engines.

> A peculiar state of affairs was developed by the investigations by the police of the false alarm of fire which was turned in recently from box 234 at 4th and Q streets northwest. Flumber Tolliver and Francis Graham were arrested for the offense, and when the cases came up in the Police Court today Tolliver's personal bonds were taken, while Graham was sentenced to a fine of $40 or six months in jail.

Soon after the alarm was turned in Tolliver was turned over to Policeman Addison of the second precinct by Francis Graham, who claimed that he had seen Tolliver pull the alarm. In explanation Tolliver told the court today that he met Graham on the street and that Graham told him he was an officer. Taking out his knife, Graham gave it to Tolliver and told him to break the glass in the box and turn in. Tolliver, who is from the country did as he was who is from the country, did as he was told, not knowing the difference between the fire alarm box and the patrol box.

When the engines came down the street Graham told Tolliver to run, and as Tollistarted down the street Graham ran after him and caught him and then turned him over to the officer. After Tolliver's arrest he told the officers this story, and they soon afterward arrested Graham. In the opinion of the police, Graham wanted to get the reward of $25 for the arrest of a man turning in a false alarm of fire and made Tolliver his dupe. This opinion was showed from the control of the state of the control of the state of the control of the con ion was shared by the judge and he held Graham responsible for the false alarm. It is stated that the case will be further investigated and new developments may be expected, perhaps involving others.

Small Boys Fined

John Francis, William Brown and Charles Queenan, three small colored boys, were caught the other day loading up an express wagon full of junk and gas fittings from the shed of William R. Carlin, at 112 7th street northeast. Francis was caught by the owner when he discovered them in his shed, and Policeman Peterson of the ninth precinct took the other two boys into custody later. All three were defendants in the Juvenile Court today. At the request of Probation Officer Copp. Brown's sentence was not pronounced today. The other two boys were sentenced to $20 fine or six months' probation.

The entering of the shed occurred in the broad daylight-about 8 o'clock on Satur. day. The boys admitted being in the shed, but denied that they were there to take anything.

In a statement issued at Indianapolis last night, Vice President T. L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers of America, deciared there will be no strike of the United Mine Workers in April, saying the operators will restore the reduction accepted by the miners two years ago, and perhaps more.

CHAINED TO A CORPSE.

DOLEFUL PUNISHMENT OF THE ANCIENTS DUPLICATED IN OUR MODERN LIFE. The Romans used to punish a murderer by chaining to his body the corpse of his victim. Wherever he went he dragged behind him the debris of his crime, the sleazy cadaver, revolting thing that was once a man. Every day you see people dragging round with them the corpse of their eins. They can't get away from them. And many of them have become so intimate with these corpses that they become corpses themselves. The misery of these poor unfortunates has become constitutional with them. It fits them like an old shoe. They have And there are thousands of humans who are walking the earth today with corpses attached to them-dyspeptic stomachs they can't get rid of. They have to get along the best they can with dyspeptic stomachs are to be found in every walk of life, suffering from some form of indigestifirst cousin to dyspepsia. They wear that forlorn appearance, their energy is at zero, nothing interests them, and they interest no one, their faces are shrunk, their nervas are wilted and their shoulders sag. Are you out of the myriads who dandle and gratify their palates, at the sacrifice of their stomachs? Are the stomachs they have. And the owners of said you one of those who allow their senses to run riot, eating too much, drinking too much, eating at the wrong time, eating the half-cooked, the queer and the impossible? Are you bloated after eating, and imagine that it is your food that fills you? Do you have nausen when you look upon this or that, rebel at one thing and be hungry for it, too, at the same time?

And have you got a whole lot of other things the matter with your stomach that you know about but nobody else does, and can't explain? If so, you have dyspepsia, real dyspepsia. And the chances are you have had it a long time. Your stomach is overworked, abused, fagged out,

The gastric and digestive juices are weak, the muscles of the stomach are jaded, and the whole business needs new life. It needs something which will take hold of the food as it comes in and do the digesting, and let your stomach take Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do that very thing.

They contain a most powerful ingredient which helps the stomach in the process of digestion, cures dyspepsia, sour stomach, indigestion, heart-born, eructations, acidity or fermentation. They invigaorate the stomach, increase the flow of gastrig juice, and do two-thirds of what the stomac would have to do without them. That gives the stomach some rest, and a chance to get right again.

OPINION BY JUSTICE PECKHAM

Held That the Railroads Have Not

The suits known as the "citrus fruit" ases, in which all the railroads of southern California were interested, were today decided favorably to the railroads by the Supreme Court of the United States, the opinion being by Justice Peckham. The cases involved the right of the railroad companies to designate the route for fruit shipped east after leaving their own lines. The decision of the circuit court for the southern district of California and also the order of the commission were reversed by

The proceeding was begun by the interstate commerce commission to test the legality of a joint order issued by all the railroads of southern California in 1899 fixing a through rate of $1.25 per hundred pounds on oranges from southern California points to the Missouri river and further east. In this order the railroads reserved the right of routing the freight east of their own terminals. The commission raised the question that the routing provision was virtually a contract for pooling, and the railroad companies justified the requirement by saving that it was necessary quirement by saying that it was necessary to prevent the making of rebates. The cir-cuit court sustained the government's con-tention, and also held the railroad circular to be in general violation of the spirit of the interstate commerce law. Today's decision was based on the genrolay's decision was based on the general ground that the routing agreement violated no provision of the interstate commerce act and aided in preventing rebates. Justice Peckham said the only question was: "Has the carrier that takes the fruit from the shipper in California the right under the facts to being two the right under the facts to being two the right under the facts to be the facts to be the facts to be the facts to be the facts to the facts to be der the facts to insist upon the rule per-mitting such carrier to route the freight at the time it is received from the shipper?" Law Not Violated.
